Training spring board 35 cm

Ref. 1411530

This training springboard has been designed as a step between the Iris competition springboard and the mini trampoline for vault. The board has the same dimensions and construction as the Iris competition springboard but has 5 springs which are far longer than usual. This makes the board not only a lot more springy but a lot higher as well. The springs are not removable. The board should be used only under strict supervision due to its springy nature.

The advantage of this board compared to our trampoline board is that although it is a lot more springy than the Iris board it has exactly the same shape contact surface as the competition springboard.
